School Of Fine Arts Attracts 300 Students

The Haliburton School of Fine Arts concluded its 4th summer program on Friday August 13. Classes were again held at the Haliburton Secondary School. The School operates as a branch of the Continuing Education Division of Sir Sandford Fleming College and the Coordinator is Mr. Donald Popple, and instructor in the Recreation Leadership program at the College.

Classes were held from July 19 to August 13 and sixteen different courses were offered this summer. Total enrolment, the biggest ever, was 300 students composed of 110 children and 190 adults. Some students came from as far away as Prince Edward Island, Calgary and Quebec, and there were six from the U.S.A. This year's enrolment was some thirty per cent above that of 1970.

Several new courses offered this year were very popular and successful. Included in these were Sculpture, Batik, Arts and Crafts Education, Children's Dance and Children's Drama.

The Fall courses, which were very successful last year, will be held this year again at Wig-A-Mog Inn on September 25-26 and October 2-3. Courses offered this fall will be Batik, Macrame Painting and Photography.

Plans for the 1972 session include the possible addition of a design course, copper enamelling and possibly a course in glass. Courses next summer will again be held during the last 2 weeks in July and the first two weeks in August. For further information:

CONSERVATIVES TO HOLD NOMINATION CONVENTION

Murray Agnew, President of the Victoria-Haliburton Progressive Conservative Association, has announced that a nomination convention will be held Saturday September 11 at the Lindsay Collegiate to select a candidate to contest the next provincial election whenever it may be called. On this occasion the provincial treasurer, Darcy McKeeugh, will be the guest speaker.

PENNY CARNIVAL LOTS OF FUN

With many sorrow filled moments we ended our season as the Minden Playground on August 20. But what a busy week we had!

Monday Tuesday and Wednesday were fully occupied with plans for our Penny Carnival on Wednesday evening.

What fun we had! Games varying from Looper to Penny Throw to the Horror House kept pennies flowing.

But the exciting highlight of the evening was the Miss Minden Playground Contest for girls between the ages of 4 and 8. Ten very pretty contestants gave the judges Mrs. Angie McCloskey of PEI, Mr. Laurie Arthurs of Toronto and Rev. Andrew Hutchinson a very difficult time. After much discussion Miss Andrea Burke was chosen 'Queen' and Misses Teresa Trepanier and Theresa Congdon were chosen 'Princesses.' A lovely threesome!

The Cake Draw by Mr. Doug McGee resulted in a delicious cake for Mrs. Louise McKnight.

Our Penny Carnival was very successful!

SATURDAY IS FAIR DAY IN MINDEN

Saturday is Fair day in Minden. Since last year's Fair the officers and directors have been busy making plans for this year's Fair.

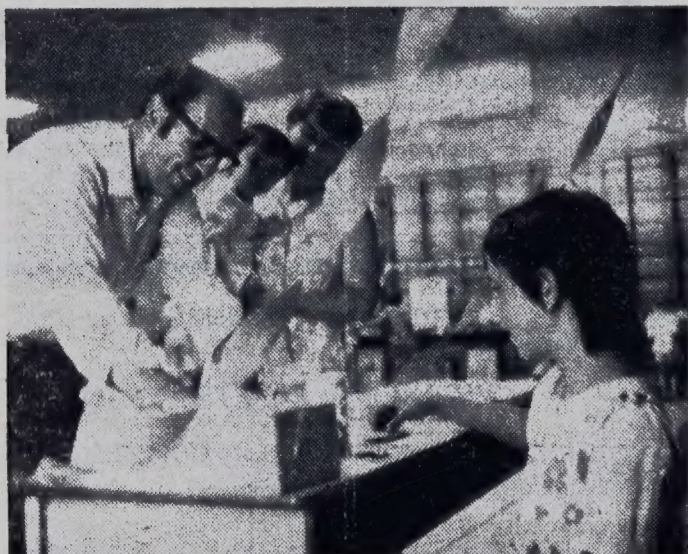

The Prize List has been revised, culling out old ideas and replacing them with new ones and at the same time raising the values of the prize moneys.

A new midway and rides have been acquired and this ought to be a bigger and brighter spot on the grounds this year, providing fun and amusement for the many hundreds who visit our Fair.

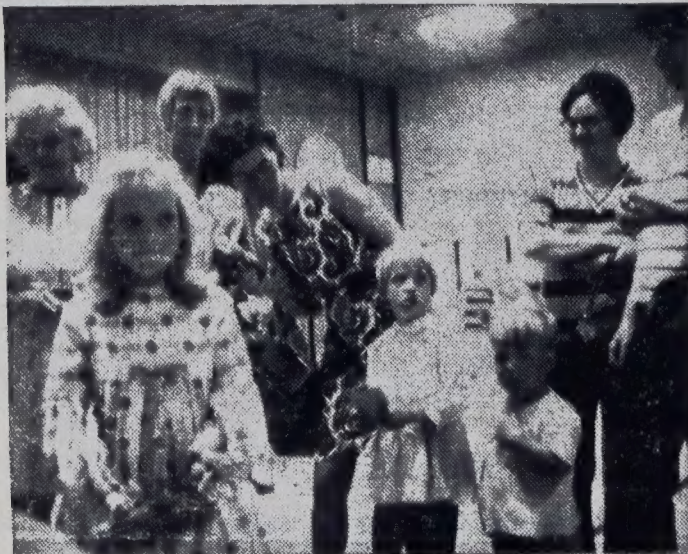

New concessions and refreshment booths will be set up to help make your day at the Fair a pleasant one.

Entertainment at the Fair is always a big factor at any Fair. The Parade Committee have a fine list drawn up and everyone is requested to be on time. The parade leaves the recreation centre at 12:30 pm.

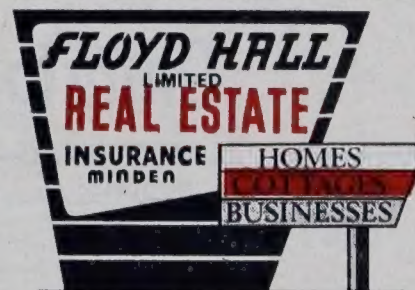

We are fortunate this year to have a band from our good neighbouring town to the south of us, namely Bobcaygeon. This wonderful group of young people will be out in their brilliant uniforms, ready to supply us with a real treat of music and show. This is the Bobcaygeon Villagers Drum Corps and they will lead the parade.

I Charles S. Brandon, Reeve of the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden proclaim Monday, September 20, 1971 as a Civic Holiday in the Municipality pursuant to the direction of the Municipal Council.

Dated at Minden, this 26th day of August, 1971.

MORNING, NOON AND NIGHT

by Myrtle A. Campbell

I just knew picking that four-leaved clover so early in the morning was a good omen for the day — and it was!

We are a family who are fortunate in owning a cottage on the shores of Horseshoe Lake in the Haliburton Highlands in Ontario. On a morning recently I rose early (while the rest of the family slept, even the poodle, Mini remained curled up at the foot of Tommy's bed). I dressed and then tip-toed about and put some breakfast on a tray and went to my favorite spot beside the lake. As I pulled the lawn chair a little closer, there was that four-leaved clover I mentioned, and I thought as I stooped to pick it "How nice to find one so early in the morning."

The lake was very beautiful that morning — you know how these Northern lakes can be. The sun had just risen and the mist was still rising off the lake. Over by the island opposite us the nebulous formation allowed no more than a glimpse of the cottages there. I was scarcely aware of eating but the tray soon looked empty so I put it down and walked quietly on to the dock. There are sights there that can't be seen during the "noisy" part of the day. First a big frog jumped from his spot under a shrub and with a gr-u-u-mp shoved off into the clear water. And then there were a number of fish ready to entertain me with a water ballet. Some were minnows but there were also fish sight of ten inches long — so beautiful with their tails tipped with green or blue flashing in the morning sun. While there I heard the loons calling down near the point and with a hope that I might see one I walked back up to my chair. Sometimes when we are out in the boat we see a pair of them momentarily and then they submerge to come up about a hundred yards away. You'll maybe have difficulty in believing this but in less than 10 minutes four graceful loons surfaced not more than 25 yards from me and posed for me to admire for at least 45 seconds! They all went down together and when I saw them again they were way out in the lake.

About ten o'clock I took my little granddaughter up the hill for a walk. She is three months short of being two years old. Stones are of great interest to her this summer, so along the way she picked up loose ones, the larger ones she gave to Nana to carry and we made a little pile of them when we reached the field and then began this heart-warming experience: As I led her into the field the timothy grass was about 6 inches higher than Carolyn and the daisies and buttercups 4 inches above her knees. With chubby hand she gently cupped the timothy head and smiled with such wonderment in her eyes. Then, as she has been taught to smell flowers rather than pick them she bent and with sounds of 'nice, pretty' she admired them much as we would the rarest orchids. And then I showed her the ripe strawberries in the grass and as I held laden with luscious, warm, sweet fruit, she reached and ate them and when she said "Nana!" her eyes said, "Am this food too? It is a rare treat to share and experience like this with one so young."

In the evening the setting sun showed promise of a spectacular sight so about 9 o'clock Eric my hubby said, "Would you like to go out in the boat for a while?" Oh! the beauty of those skies! as we admired from various areas of the lake, the colours reflected on the fleecy clouds overhead in turn were reflected on the lake. It was like boating in a painting.

This was full moon week so we watched for its rising with eager anticipation. As soon as that path appeared across the water I was down on the dock with the binoculars. Really now, there isn't anything to compare with the beauty of the moon shining over softly waving water is there? Shortly I was joined by Eric and as we sat tossing out adjectives to describe what we saw, I said, "Look, there's something swimming! and sure enough there was a beaver holding his head high and his tail flat showing us how he enjoys the moonlit nights."

As I "laid me down" that night I gave thanks for being one who is privileged to enjoy nature at the cottage.

ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

Here we are again with a few more bits and pieces — as the summer rolls on the old Editor is starting to taper off. Our holidays this year will be for two weeks, at which time the office will be closed from September 6th. to the 17th., after which we hope to bounce back bigger and better than ever. First of all I have bad news for our readers, FENWICK FINCH is back in hospital and will not write a column until he is in good health again, we hope he has a speedy recovery. Our sports columnist LARRY SCOTT has retired, due to the policy of the police force — it seems these chaps get paid for eight hours, but are told what to do for 24 hours; and this department is protecting our democracy, its questionable isn't it? On the brighter side we have DR. JOHN PURC and JUDY FREEMAN in wedlock on September 11th., congratulations. BONNIE STINSON and MARY AGNEW have done a great job this summer at the Minden Playground, on Wednesday of last week they held a very successful Penny Carnival at which ANDREA BURK was chosen Penny Queen and TERESA TREPANIER and THERESA CONGDON were the princesses. Don't forget the Progress Golf Open on September 12th. at Beaverbrook and the 19th. at Blairhampton, DAVE STEVENS and DAVE SHYLER are cooperating with us on this tournament, which should prove to be a success. Everytime this golf tournament is mentioned, 3 names pop up — they could very well be the dark horses, SPIKE MOXAM, JIM HATKOSKI and DON BOOTH, all have been getting many rounds of practise. Had a good fishing trip earlier this summer with three sportsmen, one GOLDIE WALKER is quite an outdoorsman and fisherman, we had a great day back in on Long Lake. It was sad news last Monday night to hear that RAY HYDE was resigning as President of the Rotary Club due to poor health, we hope he will be back with us soon. Our sports writer received a letter this week signed "Avid Golfer". He wanted Larry to put him straight on a problem that went like this — "while playing golf last week, on two occasions my partner (who shall remain nameless) took a mighty swing at the ball and missed completely. He claims because he did not touch the ball he is not obliged to count the stroke, I say he should. Could you please put us straight on this in your next column." I will have to answer this one for Larry. You bet, your partner has to count those misses, everytime he swings, miss or hit, it counts as a stroke. The first thing a golfer should do, is read the rules and etiquette on golf, nothing is worse than playing with a golfer who uses his own rules. Please give generously when the canvassers come around collecting money for the new community centre. With a project like this, in which the entire community will benefit, everyone must extend themselves a little extra to see that this project gets underway. Remember the Fair is this Saturday, make it a date, it's always a great day. Because this week sees the last edition of the Lake Of Bays News, the staff at the Progress (some 10 people who worked on the paper) will finish with our annual champagne party — sounds like alot of fun, eh!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

August 19, 1971.

Dear Mr. Editor:

On reading your editorial of August 19 regarding the Barbecue held at the Fairgrounds in Kinmount the Saturday previous, may I voice my dismay at our assumptions at why it is held in Kinmount?

After all, why not? I could give you several plausible reasons — the first of which being its geographical location in the three ridings represented there that evening. I'll stop there as you appear to be of the opinion that everything in a fifty-mile radius (at least) should be staged in Minden. While I admire your great community spirit, a policy of live and let live might be more appropriate in your position. We who subscribe to the Progress in Kinmount resent your attitude.

Could it be that your words belie deeper feelings? Last year close to ten thousand people attended our fair without the advertising promotion that you accuse of us this year. Facts speak louder than words.

We do thank you for your kind remarks regarding the condition of the grounds but take exception to such remarks, quote, 'looks like the back of a barn' and 'Kinmount Astrodome'. This building was built a few years back by the Agricultural Society as an Exhibit Building, NOT as an arena. Through a working agreement with the Society and a few interested citizens on the Rink Committee it functions as a recreation centre for the young people in the winter. We realize it has its short-comings in this area but we are grateful for what we have and those who don't like it don't have to come back.

I think we can take criticism as well as the next guy, but next time let it be 'constructive.'

See you at the fair!

Sincerely

June Phillips

P.S. Please don't let your 'constructive criticism' be to construct an edifice as proposed in Minden. Good luck in this endeavour! We can't afford it

DUCK SEASON 1971

The open season this year for ducks, geese, woodcock, rails, rooks, gallinules and Wilson's snipe in the Lindsay Forest District will commence on Saturday, September 25, and close on Wednesday, December 15, 1971 both dates inclusive.

Indications are that hunters may expect the same relatively high success as they did last year, with the major species of ducks in this district.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

by William J. Martin

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 5875, London Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

Dear Mr. Martin:
My wife and I have managed to accumulate some money in the last few years and we're thinking about buying a vacation home in the West. We've been reading a lot of do's and don'ts recently and like to hear your advice on this purchase.

Mr. M.B.

Dear Mr. M.B.:
The second home market in North America is truly booming with millions making the move you're contemplating. My congratulations to you, though, for taking time to investigate the situation before committing your hard-earned money.

Basically, the type of second home you buy and its location depend on how you are going to use it. How much modern convenience do you want how much isolation, how much time you are going to spend on it, how much will it cost to get there and back, etc.? I'm sure you've already been asking yourselves these questions and more so I won't dwell on them — but the answers are vital to your investment.

Obviously, you shouldn't choose a second-home site solely on the basis of an advertisement but should really understand exactly what you're dealing with — also whom you're dealing with. Be careful about getting involved with the many hard-sell promoters until you are satisfied as to their background and reputation.

Watch the details. Don't accept verbal promises about future property improvements if you're buying in a planned vacation development. Make sure everything is in writing.

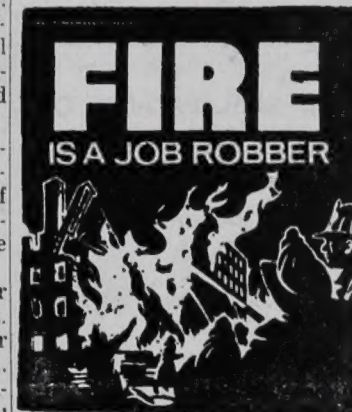

Your second home, like your first, is a major investment. Check the area out, talk to other property owners in the area. Find out as much about the future plans for the area as you possibly can.

The house itself should be sturdily constructed to last for future buyers. You might even fabricate homes now available.

To save expenses, you might rent your home when you are not going to be using it.

Nearly 200,000 second homes will be built in the U.S. alone this year. If you use care and careful consideration in its selection, yours should be a pleasant, comfortable place to get away as well as a good investment.

RUFFED GROUSE IN 1971

Ruffed grouse have their ups and downs. When we say this, we are referring to the cyclic fluctuation of their population. Generally, it is accepted that a ruffed grouse population goes from an extreme low, up to an extreme high, and back down again in about ten years.

Currently in the Lindsay Forest District the population is on the upswing. Weather conditions have been good, and the number of brood counts reported by Conservation Officers in the district have been high. Everything seems to be pointing toward an excellent hunt this fall. The season in this area is from September 25 to December 15.

MRS. H.L. BEDLINTON HONOURED

Cottagers, Camps and Tourist resort representatives were entertained at a party held Wednesday afternoon of August 18 by Mr. and Mrs. Wm Duncan.

The setting was the Duncan's Guslic Camp Grounds, the occasion an opportunity of expressing to Mrs. Bedlinton the appreciation of the summer residents on Gull Lake of her generosity in setting aside the beautiful park area of Rackety Creek for their enjoyment.

After some delightful refreshments, Mr. Morley Sparley, President of the Kawartha and Gull Lake Cottagers Assn., formerly thanked Mrs. Bedlinton for leasing this beauty spot to the Assn stating how grateful they all were that the general public could continue to use and enjoy it.

Mr. Tom Duncan, past president of the Assn, was called upon to formerly present an engraved Certificate of Appreciation, following which a lovely corsage and flower arrangement were bestowed.

Mrs. Bedlinton, who was somewhat overwhelmed, replied by saying that she was deeply touched by their appreciation and that she had in fact gained through the arrangement as it resulted in the park area being properly supervised. She said that small percentage of the people who had used the park had destroyed trees and generally left everything untidy.

Incidentally, Mrs. Bedlinton who is 92 years young, is one of the oldest residents on Gull Lake. Her father came here 100 years ago and owned and operated the lumber mill that had constructed the wooden sluice or runway from Bob to Gull Lake.

The actual supervision and control of the park area is vested in the Rackety Creek Committee of the Assn. which enjoys the full co-operation of Kilcoo and Onondaga Camps and the Miners Bay Lodge.

The committee has improved the park facilities by clearing out obstructing dead heads in the creek as you approach, erecting two out door fireplaces and a very good comfort station. Mr. Duncan, the chairman of this committee has been a moving spirit in securing and developing the project.

The site is intended for picnics. Visitors are asked to assist by keeping the area clean and tidy.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Newham representing the Miners Bays Cottagers Assn., Mr. and Mrs. Earl, Mr. and Mrs. J. Turner, John Latimer director of Kilcoo Camp, Armstrong, director of Onondaga Camp Mr. and Mrs. Plewman.

FLORA OF THE WOODS

by Eleanor Coulter

Living near the southern Ontario urban area as we do, it is a treat to find wildflowers up here that we have never seen or known before. One that has escaped getting into the wildflower books is a tiny seven-petalled star flower no larger than the end of your small finger on a four-leaved plant. One that puzzled me last year has turned out to be named Shinleaf, so named for its medicinal value when the leaf was placed on a buise. Its flower is similar to the lily-of-the valley and bloomed in late June.

The Clintonia has a base of large glossy green leaves and bears a cluster of miniature lemon lilies that later form large blue seed berries. Where there was no need to disturb this plant it has spread into beds of two yards in circumference.

Another flower whose natural habitat is that of the cool north woods is Coolwort or Foamflower with pure white feathery blossoms on long stalked spires. The leaf is shaped somewhat like the maple leaf.

We delight in the two specimens of Solomon's Seal that abound here. Gardeners would love to create the effect that Nature has managed in this handsome plant. Its bold, striking leafy stem rises sturdily from the ground with a graceful curve. The greenish white florets on the underside are followed by red berries; I have watched little chipmunks ride these stalks down and nibble at the berries. The second type is a larger plant and decorates the roadsides. When in bloom they look like huge clusters of pink tinged white lilacs at the end of the stalk that form a grape-like seed cluster later.

There are only a few clusters of Indian Pipe and we try to protect them. Possibly they show up more in the years when we have a lot of rain for some times we can't find them. They are actually a plant but might be mistaken for fungi as they are so pale and clammy, receiving their food from the roots of other living plants or feeding on decayed material.

Brightening up the floor of the woods are the cherry little groups of bunchberries, first with their bloom like a dogwood flower, then the clusters of bright red berries. Partridge berry vines also run rampant; this year I saw the bloom for the first time, a tiny waxy trumpet flower followed by a red berry.

Could some one enlighten me as to the name of the little bush that bears small pink or almost white bells? The leaves are oval shaped and the stalk contains a sticky milk. They grow along the roadside on the way to Lake Kawagama. I would like to see an exchange of favorite wildflower description as there are still many I don't know.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Minden Playground,
August 20, 1971.

Dear Sir:

Our Minden Playground has come to an end. We do hope that it has been successful in the eyes of the community. Registration reached 100 and our daily average of 24 kept us both well occupied.

There are many people responsible for our excellent participation. The taxpayers of Anson, Hindon and Minden who made our Playground possible; the Recreational Committee who aided us and who helped to set our goals; the parents who transported and instilled interest in the children. To all of you we say 'Thank You!'

Most important however are the children themselves who helped with our special events and came each day offering their interest, enthusiasm, and vitality.

With many regrets we say 'good-bye', thank you for everything. We hope to be a part of you again.

Sincerely,

Bonnie Stinson and Mary Agnew

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

August 23, 1971.

Dear Sir:

In last week's issue there appeared in Jeanne Sears' column "About the Town" what struck me as a witicism in extremely bad taste. The suggestion was made that your readers help keep Minden clean by offering a 'hippie' a ride to Toronto. This is surely out of keeping with the spirit of hospitality and welcome that should prevail in a resort community, especially when our economy is dependant upon it.

What appears to some local eyes as a 'hippie' is probably a well educated youngster on his way to becoming a Canadian investor. Being under 25 years of age is one of the great majority of Canadian citizens. He is probably, like so many others, travelling on a shoestring during the summer, discovering the soul of a nation; that is what really counts with us, the values by which we live. Let us not encourage him to think that we really believe human beauty and human cleanliness consist in simply looking clean-cut.

It is easy to make Minden 'look' clean by removing what 'looks' unclean. It is much more difficult to clean up an attitude that sees the freedom of youth as unclean. Hardening of the attitudes is more common and more dangerous to life than hardening of the arteries, and above all our sense of humour should help us guard against such spiritual sickness.

Yours faithfully,
The Rev A.S. Hutchison

BARBEQUED CHICKEN — VERSATILE TREAT

Chicken pieces or chicken halves are tender, mild flavoured and versatile, cooked over the coals of a barbecue. Tender young fryers or boilers weighing 2¼ to 3 pounds, quartered or halved, are best suited for grill cooking.

Before starting to barbecue, be sure the coals are covered with a white, powdery ash and the grill is 6 to 12 inches above the coals to give a medium heat. Brush the chicken with melted fat.

Place the pieces on the greased grill, skin side up. The skin side scorches easily and should be kept down no more than 3 minutes at a time. Turn the pieces every 3 to 5 minutes with long handled tongs and baste frequently. Total cooking time will be 40 to 60 minutes.

There is a special method for barbecuing chicken breasts resulting in exceptionally juicy and delicious meat. The success depends on the cooking. Brush the breasts liberally with melted fat and place on the grill over hot coals. Turn frequently. At a grill temperature of 375 degrees, they will require about 20 to 25 minutes total cooking time.

There are a wide variety of sauces and marinades that complement the mild flavour of chicken. Suggested basting sauces include: melted butter combined with crushed garlic, or lemon and honey, or herbs such as thyme, oregano, rosemary, marjoram, savory, tarragon or bay leaf. Barbecue sauces sweet and sour sauce, or even French or Italian salad dressing, will create special chicken flavour favorites.

DO'S AND DON'TS — FOR YOUR BOATING SAFETY AND PLEASURE

DO:

— head for the closest safe anchorage or landing when a storm threatens and avoid the temptation to "buck it."

— observe the regulations regarding the presence of lifesaving equipment, using only that stamped or labelled "approved" by the Department of Transport.

— Assist any boat in distress. The waving, in a vertical circular motion, of a piece of light coloured material or a light by night is a distinctive distress signal.

— slow down when passing dredges or water where divers may be working.

— slow down when making sharp turns, or in bad weather.

— slow down when passing row boats and canoes, especially in narrow waters.

— learn the Rules of the Roads, and practise them.

— when operating at night, carry a few red flares in a watertight container; the red flares used on railroads are efficient and inexpensive.

— keep the bilges of the boat clean, free of oil, gasoline and rags, etc. Vent any enclosed areas into the open air.

— check the battery and its ventilation.

— respect your boat and know its limitations.

— follow the regulations regarding fire precautions and fire extinguishing equipment.

— carry an anchor and sufficient length of sound cable, rope or chain, at least 5 times the average anchorage depth. Be sure that the inboard end of the line is securely fastened to the boat.

— wear a lifejacket when in small boats whether or not lifesaving cushions are carried.

— where practical join a yacht or boat club and keep fully informed on regulations, etc.

— when engaged in extended cruising carry the latest charts and related publications in your boat at all times.

DON'T:

— stand up or change seats in a small boat, particularly when the boat is full. If necessary, crouch low and keep the weight on the boat's centreline, holding on to both gunwales.

— operate near swimmers.

— mix liquor and boating.

— use a leaky or poorly built boat.

— cruise fast enough to create a dangerous swell when near small boats.

— leave your tiller or steering wheel unattended, especially when under way in harbours, anchorages or narrow channels.

— throw garbage overboard.

— blow your horn or use the spotlight unnecessarily.

— wait until the last minute to signify your intentions of obeying the Rules of the Road.

— anchor close to other boats.

— cruise at high speed in or near an anchorage.

— hold impromptu races with other boats, since row boats, canoes and other very small craft are endangered by the wash.

— attempt to swim ashore if your boat is capsized or swamped. Hang on to the boat until you are picked up.

— be a "show off."

— "buzz" bathing beaches; swimmers are hard to see in the water.

— carry out-dated charts and related publications in your boat. Always use the latest corrected editions at all times.
